SHIP GLOBAL GATEWAY

Caitlin Murphy
CEO - Ship Global Gateway

I cannot say enough amazing things about Flipspaces. The entire team were extremely proactive, communicative and patient with me during the design phase and into production. I would absolutely recommend and use them again. Let me know if you have any questions.

MCLEAN NEUROPSYCHIATRIC TREATMENT CENTER

Aazaz Haq,
Director

Flipspaces was an amazing resource to have when trying to design my office. I was starting with nothing but blank space and no experience with making it into a clinic, and they were critical in helping me get ideas on how the layout of the office might look, with different furniture choices, arrangements, etc. I am really happy with how my office looks thanks to them, and I would recommend their services to anyone considering them"

"Your vision was really crucial in making this place look good."

BRINGER AIR CARGO

You could not be in better hands, the Flipspaces's team went above & beyond our expectations, we changed our layouts several times, they never complained, specially the design team, they helped me so much with great design inputs, bringing furniture options and alternative solutions for every construction restriction. What I loved the most, was their 3D software that allowed me to walk through and see how the space would look like with all the furniture, windows, floors, lighting, it was really a game changer. Few weeks ago we received the shipment, beautiful colors, better than the 3D videos and most importantly great quality! I hope you go with them and love the results as much I did.

Flipspaces to grow US business by 5x in the next year on the back of strong growth

Kunal Sharma, Founder & CEO, Flipspaces

Interior Design tech startup Flipspaces has seen its US vertical grow 35x in the last six quarters and is looking to aggressively expand the team and geographical outreach in both design and build and SAAS offering in the US, Kunal Sharma, Founder & CEO, Flipspaces told ET.

"We are looking to grow the US business 5X in the next 12 months," Sharma said. "In a short span, we have created a strong global presence with dedicated offices in Mumbai, Bangalore and more recently in Boston. A $100 billion commercial Design and build market US also offers a better margin profile in the tech-enabled design and build segment."

Further, he said that the company's offering VIZSTORE is a SaaS product for third party furniture and furnishing brands. This VR-enabled SaaS product was first used extensively and validated as part of the internal tech-suite, he said.

How digital tools can bolster interior design projects

A turnkey design and build project not only involves a lot of painstaking effort and time, it is a combination of a lot of back-end activities where-in one needs to justify that all stakeholders are ensured that it's a combined integration of design process and also finding the right solutions and using the right technology to ensure the end clients vision comes to life.

While a client may only look at the end result of the project, an interior design project is strenuous. Embracing new age disruptive technology can offer both – an optimized design process work flow with the use of new tools along with a quicker and an efficient build process. This enables interior designers to focus on aspects which are critical, and overall expedite as well as smoothen the project journey. As a result, the use of technology facilitates the next generation of commercial spaces that are being transformed into a secondary habitual space for employees and their subconscious needs.

3D /Virtual Walkthroughs

Previously, the only methodology for a client to see their finished floor plans and designs were through a lacklustre format of a black and white 2D design layout. With the new infusion of Virtual Reality (VR) and Augmented Reality (AR) in interior designing has now completely transformed the client's visual experience journey. The client can now, with the help of VR, tour their commercial spaces virtually even before a brick is laid, assess what works for them in terms of design, and recommend
